

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF STATE TWITTER TERMS OF SERVICE

Welcome to the Gilman International Scholarship Program Twitter Page! The U.S. Department of State provides this community to you and supported in its implementation by the Institute of International Education (IIE). For additional information regarding this site or about our programs and services please see our official website gilmanscholarship.org.

1. Acceptance of Terms

The State Department provides this service to you subject to the provisions of this Terms of Use ("TOU"), which may be updated by the State Department from time to time without notice to you. By using this site, you are accepting these TOU and agreeing to be bound by them, including the provision that you, not the State Department, are entirely responsible for all material you post or otherwise make available via the site. You can review the current version of the TOU at any time on the Gilman International Scholarship Program Twitter Page or gilmanscholarship.org

2. Purpose

The purpose of the Gilman International Scholarship Program Twitter Page is to present information about the Gilman International Scholarship Program and resources for Gilman Scholars and Alumni as well as Gilman Advisors and to allow interested users to connect. We expect critical discussion and debate, which might include both support and criticism of U.S. policy. However, disrespectful or malicious statements about other individuals or groups are not acceptable.

3. Description of Service

Gilman International Scholarship Program operates on the Twitter platform. It provides its members with a variety of features, including but not limited to: video and photo sharing, access to a community blog, discussion forum, messaging, chat, and notifications of developments in gilmanscholarship.org. The U.S. Department of State reserves the right to alter the types of features that gilmanscholarship.org provides at any time without notice to community members.

4. Twitter's Terms of Use and Privacy Policy

Twitter has its own Terms of Use and Privacy Policy, of which you should be aware, and which can be found at <https://twitter.com/en/privacy>. Please note that Twitter maintains that by using this platform you are agreeing to be bound by that Terms of Use and Privacy Policy. The State Department will not be responsible if you violate the platform's requirements.

You share content on the site at your own risk. Although Twitter may allow you to set privacy options that limit access to your information, please be aware that no security measures are perfect or impenetrable. Further, neither the State Department nor Twitter can control the actions of other Users with whom you share your profile and information. Therefore, the State Department cannot and does not guarantee that User Content you post on the site will not be used improperly or viewed by other individuals.

5. Security

Participation in the Gilman International Scholarship Program page is voluntary. You accept responsibility for maintaining the confidentiality of your login information, and for all activities that occur under your login. You should immediately notify the platform of any unauthorized use of your login or account or any other breach of security. You agree that the State Department is not liable in any way for any loss or damage arising from your failure to comply with this Section. See Twitter's TOU for additional information on its security practices.

6. Member Conduct

You understand that all information, data, messages or other materials ("Content"), whether publicly posted or privately transmitted, are the sole responsibility of the person posting or transmitting such Content. This means that you, and not the State Department, accept full responsibility for all Content that you post, email, transmit or otherwise make available via the site.

You agree not to use the site in a manner that falls outside of its limited purpose set out in these TOU. For example, you agree not to use this site to:

- post or otherwise make available threats of violence or harm to any individual or group; obscene, vulgar, or lewd material; fraudulent statements; terms commonly understood to constitute profanity or abusive or degrading slurs or epithets;
- impersonate any actual person, entity, corporation, government or representative thereof;
- post or otherwise make available any Content that you do not have a right to make available, including but not limited to material restricted by intellectual property or other proprietary rights, material that is classified or otherwise legally protected, or material protected by contractual or fiduciary obligations;

- post or otherwise make available information about yourself or other individuals that could be misused, such as for identity theft, including visa application information (this restriction is intended to protect you and others)
- post or otherwise make available any advertising, promotional materials, "junk mail," "spam," "chain letters," "pyramid schemes," or any other form of solicitation;
- post or otherwise make available any malware or other material that contains software viruses, or any other computer code, files or programs designed to interrupt, destroy or limit the functionality of any computer software or hardware or telecommunications equipment; or designed to gather sensitive information or gain privileged access to private computer systems; or
- stalk, harass or otherwise harm another individual or group.

You agree not to use any portion of the site for commercial gain, including its Content, the use of the site, or access to the site, including by commercially reproducing, duplicating, copying, selling, or reselling.

7. State Department Content Management

The State Department does not endorse any user-posted Content or otherwise suggest or guarantee the accuracy, integrity or quality of such Content. You understand that by visiting this site, you may be exposed to Content that is offensive, indecent or objectionable. You agree that under no circumstances is the State Department liable in any way for any no Department-generated Content (including, but not limited to, any errors or omissions in any Content), or for any loss or damage of any kind incurred as a result of the use of any Content posted, emailed, transmitted or otherwise made available via the site.

You acknowledge that the State Department does not pre-screen or otherwise control user-generated Content, but that the State Department and its designees shall have the right (but not the obligation), in their sole discretion, to delete or move any Content, in whole or in part, that violates these TOU.

You acknowledge and agree that the U.S. Department of State may keep a record of users' violations of these TOU in order to detect patterns of such violations and to ensure that the community remains an open forum for dialogue.

You acknowledge and agree that the State Department may preserve Content and may also disclose Content if required to do so by law or in the good faith belief that such preservation or disclosure is reasonably necessary to: (a) comply with legal process;

(b) comply with Department records retention policies; (c) enforce the TOU; (d) respond to claims that any Content violates the rights of third parties; or (e) protect the rights, property, or personal safety of the State Department, its employees, the Department's online community members, and/or the public. The Department of State may report violent or threatening content to the appropriate law enforcement agency.

You agree that the State Department has no responsibility or liability for the deletion of or failure to store any messages and other communications or other Content maintained or transmitted by the site.

8. Special Caution for International Use

You agree to accept responsibility for all personal conduct associated with your use of this site, including all content posted or otherwise made available by you. You must evaluate and bear all risks associated with the transmission or use of Content on this site. Compliance with these TOU and with Twitter's terms does not guarantee compliance with local and national laws of the country in which you reside. The U.S. Government and Department of State cannot protect individual users from the consequences of violations of the laws of other nations.

9. Intellectual Property Rights to Content Submitted or Made Available for Inclusion on the Site

The State Department does not claim ownership of Content you submit or make available for inclusion on the site. Unless the Content explicitly states otherwise, all user-generated content uploaded to this site is provided pursuant to, and accompanied by, a restricted license as follows: user generated content that is uploaded to the site will not be used for commercial purposes; no derivative works will be made; and full attribution will be given. This license is valid internationally. You specifically agree that you are providing your Content pursuant to this license to the State Department. You agree that your use of other users' Content will be in accordance with this license.

U.S. Government-generated posted Content, however, may be used or reproduced, if it is not used for commercial gain. The State Department has an agreement with the Associated Press (AP) which allows the use of copyrighted AP images on the State Department's social media sites. The AP maintains ownership and copyright for these images, and the use of them by the State Department does not enter them into the public domain. You agree not to copy, download, or redistribute any AP image found on this or any other State Department social media site.

10. Indemnity

You agree to indemnify and hold harmless the State Department, officials, agents, grantees or other partners, and the employees thereof, from any claim or demand, made by any third party due to or arising out of Content you submit, post, transmit or make available through the site; your use of the site; your connection to the site; or your violation of the TOU or any rights of a third party and to compensate them for reasonable attorneys' fees in connection with such claims or demands.

11. Modifications to Service

The State Department reserves the right at any time to modify or discontinue, temporarily or permanently, the community (or any part thereof). You agree that the State Department shall not be liable to you or to any third party for any modification, suspension or discontinuance of the community.

12. Termination

You agree that the State Department, in its sole discretion, may terminate your access to the community, and remove and discard any Content within the community, for any reason, including, without limitation, if the State Department believes that you have violated or acted inconsistently with these TOU (see paragraph 6, Member Conduct). You acknowledge and agree that any termination or suspension of your access to the community under any provision of these TOU may be affected without prior notice. Further, you agree that the State Department shall not be liable to you or any third party for any termination of your access to the community.

13. Links to External Sites

The Gilman International Scholarship Program may provide, or third parties may provide, links to other websites or resources. You acknowledge and agree that the State Department does not endorse and is not responsible or liable for any content, advertising, products, malware or other software, or other materials on or available from such sites or resources. These third-party sites operate under separate Terms of Use and Privacy Policies. You are encouraged to read the privacy statements of every website that collects information from you. You further acknowledge and agree that the State Department shall not be responsible or liable for any damage or loss caused or alleged to be caused, directly or indirectly, by or in connection with use of the content, software, goods or services available on or through any such site or resource.

14. Third Party Applications

Due to the nature of Twitter, the State Department may use third party applications to provide the community with additional functionality. Each application has its own Terms of Use and Privacy Policies. The State Department is not responsible for the collection of any information conducted by these third-party applications.

15. Accessibility

All State Department content available on this site will be compliant with Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act, which addresses the accessibility of content to persons with disabilities, “unless an undue burden would be imposed on the department or agency.”

16. English Language

To assure that members adhere to the TOU, the language of the Gilman International Scholarship Program site is English. Content posted in languages other than English may be subject to removal. An accurate translation into English must be provided if a member chooses to post content in other languages.

17. Terms of Use, Notices and Revisions

We reserve the right to change our Privacy Policy and our Terms of Use at any time. If we make changes, we will post them and inform the community of the changes. If we make significant changes to this policy, we will notify you through notice on our home page. We encourage you to refer to this policy on an ongoing basis so that you understand our current privacy policy.

18. Contacting the Community Manager

If you have any questions about these terms, please contact the Gilman International Scholarship Program Community Manager at gilman@iie.org. Also, be sure to check out our official website at gilmanscholarship.org.
